BACKGROUND

The City Council of Commerce City is committed to creating a Quality Community for a Lifetime, establishing five goals that provide staff policy direction for administrative work activities:

- 1. Promote a balanced and thriving city
- 2. Promote efficient and effective city government to improve levels of service
- 3. Develop and maintain the public infrastructure to improve community appearance and encourage continued development
- 4. Promote resident health, safety and education
- 5. Improve community involvement and trust

The city's 2019 federal and state legislative principles serve as a consistent guide for the city in developing positions on any forthcoming federal and state legislation. The document also serves as a reference for elected representatives when considering legislation that may impact the City of Commerce City.

These principles describe the underlying interest Commerce City has on specific issues, providing clear direction and a framework for staff to develop positions on legislation that can impact the city. Council may revisit the city's legislative priorities, as a body or through its legislative committee. Strategic, targeted, and/or abbreviated versions of the information contained in this document also will be created throughout the year for use in further legislative communications.

REPRESENTATION

Consistent with Council Policy CP-2, the city's legislative committee anticipates and proactively addresses federal, state and regional legislation/policies to protect the City home rule charter. The city's director of external affairs serves as staff liaison for federal and state government relations. Commerce City contracts with Squire Patton Boggs to advance its federal advocacy work and with Axiom Strategies, Inc. for state advocacy activities. As a member of the Colorado Municipal League, Commerce City relies on the organization's advocacy team to provide reliable information on legislative issues and their impact on Colorado's cities, towns and their residents.

SPECIFIC LEGISLATIVE PRIORITIES

Commerce City has identified several specific priorities important to the community:

- Home Rule. Uphold local decision-making and home rule authority on municipal operations, taxation, land use controls, urban renewal, and public safety best management practices.
- Housing. Increase availability of attainable, owner-occupied, housing consistent with the city's comprehensive plan.
- Education. Advocate for improved P12, post-secondary/workforce access and accountability, ensuring all students obtain a quality education and can meet established performance metrics.
- Oil & Gas. Share local experience with oil and gas development to inform statewide policies that balance public and private interest.

- Human Services. Support solutions that increase vital human service resources to vulnerable populations to address issues such as food insecurity, homelessness, mental health, and opioid abuse.
- Railroads. Advocate solutions to safety and nuisance issues related to railroad proximity, such as crossing conflicts and quiet zone rules.
- Transportation. Support federal and state funding of transportation infrastructure such as U.S. 85/120th Avenue, Interstate 270, and 88th Avenue, with an emphasis on an integrated, multimodal network.
- Older Adults/Senior Services. Ensure reauthorization of the Older Americans Act and adequate funding for implementation.
- Grants. Continue needed community funding through federal block and competitive grant programs from the Departments of Housing and Urban Development, Justice, Transportation and Veteran's Affairs.
- Taxation. Preserve tax-exempt status for municipal bonds and expand sales tax coverage to internet businesses.

GUIDING LEGISLATIVE PRINCIPLES

Home Rule and Local Control

The citizens of Commerce City adopted a Home Rule Charter in 1970, which establishes the power of local self-government to the city pursuant to the Constitution of the State of Colorado. As such, Commerce City has the responsibility and authority to adopt rules and regulations that govern the operation of the community in the interest of its citizens. The city believes that home rule authority increases the effectiveness and efficiency of local government services, public safety, and municipal operations, enhancing the quality of life for local taxpayers.

State Mandates

Laws, programs and regulations mandated by the state of Colorado have the potential to stretch the city's financial resources. If additional costs brought about by mandated programs or regulations are not paid by the state government, they can have a direct negative impact on the city budget, preventing Commerce City from meeting the needs of residents and achieving our strategic priorities.

Transportation

Commerce City believes the movement of goods and people are vital to the continued economic success of our region and Coloradans' quality of life. Federal and state officials must be willing to make significant investment to maintain and improve Colorado's multimodal transportation network to preserve these benefits.

Adjacent to six major highways, Denver International Airport, two railroads, and two new commuter rail lines, effective transportation is equally important to the success of the city's economy. The city has identified numerous transportation priorities, such as the U.S. 85/120th Avenue interchange, Interstate 270, 88th Avenue widening, and transit service expansion. The city is against efforts to pass along additional State roadway construction or maintenance responsibilities to local governments without increased and adequate funds to meet these additional responsibilities.

Housing

Rental costs, single-family home sales prices, and the availability of attainable, housing throughout the state has created an undue burden not only for very-low income and homeless, but also older adults as well as those within the working and middle class. Commerce City believes all residents should have access to safe, quality housing throughout the city. The city supports regional, state and federal initiatives that preserve and enhance the number of quality affordable homes, incentivizes new affordable and population-specific housing developments, and develops additional services and opportunities to promote self-sufficiency.

Sales and Use Tax

Commerce City levies, administers and collects its own sales and use tax under its home rule authority. Sales and use tax revenue is the primary source of funding for city operations and services. Statewide, municipalities generate more than $5 in these taxes to every $1 of property taxes. Sales and use taxes fund public services and improvements and keep municipal property taxes relatively low. Appropriate federal, state and local actions should preserve or enhance these local revenues, while still seeking opportunities to streamline or provide business certainty across municipalities.

Economic Development

Commerce City strives to develop a balanced and thriving city economy. Whether it's maintaining primary employers, expanding its retail base, developing a diverse workforce, or encouraging local business expansion, a healthy economic climate is critical to our municipality's overall quality of life. Commerce City advocates for and collaborates with legislators, government entities and other municipalities to encourage the creation of jobs in our City and for our residents.

Municipal development and land use

Commerce City constantly works to achieve its comprehensive plan, to build a sustainable community. The City believes that local land use planning contributes greatly to the achievement of this goal and the overall quality of life in the city. In general, the City supports laws and policies that encourage new and infill residential, commercial and industrial development within the City. Conversely we oppose efforts to restrict municipal authority to annex territory as well as delegation of our land use authority to state agencies or preemption of municipal land use controls, and any restrictions on urban renewal authorities.

Public Safety

Having a safe and secure community is one of the city council goals. The city is working diligently to provide a safe environment, protecting the lives and property of the citizens of Commerce City. The role of the police department is to enforce the law in a fair and impartial manner, recognizing both the statutory and judicial limitations of police authority and the constitutional rights of all persons. The city continues to implement a strategic policing program that accurately reflects the diversity of our community and provides equitable service to all constituents. The city supports legislation that enables local decision-making on public safety services and operations.

Education

Commerce City believes an accessible, effective, and accountable education system supplies our municipality with an educated, well-trained community and workforce prepared for the new economy, which will allow existing businesses to expand and attract new business investment to our city. With two school districts and a state charter school, the city believes education is a community-wide value and the most effective programs are partnerships among our educational institutions, local stakeholders and local government. The city supports ensuring all students obtain a quality P12 and post-secondary education to meet performance standards and continued state funding of local school districts, finding opportunities to address the negative factor and eliminating further cuts as a result of TABOR.

Energy

Colorado is well-known for its natural resources and history of oil and gas exploration. The city recognizes the need for a comprehensive approach to energy regulation. Municipalities are in a position to provide state policy makers with access to information and education concerning best practices in energy development and conservation. Commerce City strives to balance the needs of the oil and gas industry with municipal growth and development. The city's land development code and the city's participation in the state local government designee program offer a layered approach to protect the interests of the community and the rights of private developers. The city is supportive of rules and legislation that maintains its home rule authority to regulate oil and gas development, increases opportunities to enforce current standards, expands communication and notification, and leverages existing knowledge to codify best management practices that mitigate operator impacts. The city also supports diversifying community energy sources and promoting green alternatives to reduce consumption.

Healthy Eating & Active Living (HEAL)

As an Elite LiveWell community, Commerce City supports local, state and federal policies that improve access to physical activity and healthy food. Making the healthy choice the easy choice is essential to addressing Colorado's adult and childhood obesity epidemic, the cost of which exceeds $1.6 billion annually. Commerce City's has adopted a coordinated and collaborative approach to implementing Healthy Eating and Active Living (HEAL) initiatives and supports legislation that encourages an active community, promotes healthy work places, increases healthy food access, and improves resident perceptions of safety and security.

Human Services

Addressing the needs of vulnerable populations is critical to a community's success. Homelessness, food insecurity, opioid abuse, and mental health are issues of regional and statewide concern that require integrated and partnership-oriented solutions. Self-sufficiency, health and well-being strengthen individuals and the community as a whole. The city is supportive of new policies and activities aimed at increasing vital human service resources and protecting vulnerable children and adults by ensuring they live in safe, healthy environments. The city also supports policies that create opportunities for independence through services and support while demonstrating accountability for taxpayer resources.
