

City of Commerce City, Colorado

Proclamation

WHEREAS, the United Nations General Assembly proclaimed the "Universal Declaration of Human Rights" as a common standard of achievement for all people and all nations; and,

WHEREAS, this declaration should be constantly kept in mind as we strive by teaching and education to promote respect for universal human rights and freedoms for every individual and every organ of society; and

WHEREAS, during this month, it is critical that we support efforts that support human rights around the world, such as supporting fair trade, purchasing ethically created products, connecting with social movements, standing up against discrimination, educating yourself on ways to support human rights, and creating an open dialogue with others; and,

WHEREAS, human rights are a central concern of our society and we should strive to ensure equality for women and girls, prevent unnecessary conflict, reduce human suffering, and build equity.

NOW, THEREFORE, the City Council of Commerce City hereby proclaims the month of December 2022, as Universal Human Rights Month and encourages the community to take time to learn about different communities around the world and how we may best support human rights for everyone.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused this seal to be affixed on the fifth day of December, 2022.
