

Why hasn't the "environment beyond the street" capitalized on the "environment within the street"?

- Undefined vision
- Lack of "brand" or "address"
- Isolated, limited exposure
- Consumer and investor indifference
- Recalcitrant property owners
- Inconsistent pedestrian environment
- Lack of critical mass
- Convenience-driven spending cycles
- Different measures of success!

... concentration of themed businesses co-located in a shared environment with unifying elements that draw people in by foot, bike, and car and that compels them to stay, learn, experience, shop, and enjoy its history and offerings.

What is the market?

Going Forward

“Hispanic buying power has grown substantially over the last 30 years, from $213 billion in 1990 to $1.9 trillion in 2020. Hispanic buying power accounted for 11.1% of U.S. buying power in 2020, up from only 5% in 1990.”

“A major factor underpinning the growth of the nation’s minority markets is that African Americans, Asians, and Hispanics continue to become more highly educated, which allows proportionally more Blacks, Asians, and Hispanics to enter occupations with higher average salaries.”

“Age, income, and a consumer’s racial ethnic origins are important factors in purchasing behavior – particularly products associated with leisure activities, restaurants, personal care, childcare, pet care, and financial services.”

What is the market? (cont'd)

Going Forward

“The Hispanic market is the largest minority market in the U.S. and continues to expand briskly -- the group’s spending power increased 87% from 2010.”

“In 2020, the 10 states with the largest Hispanic markets, in order, are California ($506 b), Texas ($361 b), Florida ($208 b), New York ($139 b), New Jersey ($70 b), Illinois ($68 b), Arizona ($63 b), Colorado ($40 b), New Mexico ($32 b), and Washington ($31 b).”

“Bricks and mortar concepts work for younger consumers who prefer its socializing benefits, and older consumers its practical benefits – the ability to inspect and test.”

Old Adages or Rules of Thumb

“If they want to control the timeframe, the budget, and the outcome, walk away!”

“You can define your path and be open to your outcome, or you can choose your outcome, and be open to the path that gets you there.”

How do they get there?

Going Forward

Scenario No. 1:

- Create value in surrounding neighborhoods, corridors, concentrations (e.g., 32nd & Lowell in Denver, “M” Streets in Dallas)
- Integrate ethnicity and culture in wayfinding
- Grow profile of area and increase traffic and visitor counts

How do they get there?
