

Narrative letter

The project that we are presenting includes a deck complete with railings, a ramp for handicap and a trellis or pergola above the deck.

This project is an addition to a complete remodel for this address, where we have planned a coffee shop/eatery business, We think that this deck will be an essential addition to this project due to the location and the kind of business planned for this building, the deck and railing will be built out of a composite like wood material, made with recycled plastic, weather resistant, and very long lasting, (information attached). According to the contractors estimates, the cost of this project is around $22,000, which is about the budget that we have.

The time for completion of the project would be with in 2 months after it is approved.
